

Emory Mulling

Mulling Corporation Chairman and Senior Executive Coaching Consultant

Emory Mulling is a nationally recognized expert on the trends and forces shaping the American Workplace. As Chairman Founder, and Senior Executive Coaching Consultant for Mulling Corporation, headquartered in Atlanta, Georgia, he has created a successful executive coaching and career transition firm that is a leader in talent management consulting.

Founded in 1986, Mulling Corporation is an affiliate of Lincolnshire International/Arbora Global Career Partners with 225 offices worldwide. Through this affiliation, Mulling Corporation can provide extensive talent management services to Fortune 500 companies globally while maintaining its local leadership servicing Georgia and the Greater Atlanta area. Mulling Corporation is not only the chosen talent management firm for prominent businesses large and small, it has also been recognized as an A+ Employer-Best Places to Work in Atlanta by the Atlanta Business Chronicle.

A former Vice President of Human Resources, Emory's background includes 16 years of corporate Human Resource experience with three Fortune 500 companies. His tenure in Human Resources gives him a wide breadth of knowledge in every aspect of talent management, and his longevity in the industry allows him the foresight to pinpoint key trends and keep his clients on the pulse of workplace issues in any economy.

A prolific writer and sought-after expert, Emory wrote a nationally syndicated column for five years entitled People Smarts for the American City Business Journals giving management advice to employers. He has been quoted in dozens of national publications including: The Wall Street Journal, Time, Fortune, Kiplinger's, Entrepreneur, Newsweek and The New York Times. Emory has served as a seasoned workplace expert on radio, television and online, and is also a noted lecturer on workplace issues.

Since 2007, Emory has been hosting a timely and provocative radio show for Georgia Public Broadcasting entitled, "At Work with Emory Mulling."

Emory is author of "The Mulling Factor: Get Your Life Back by Taking Control of Your Career." This book contains The Mulling Factor©, an assessment tool designed to assist people in correcting misemployment and identifying their ideal boss and work environment. It has also been translated into Korean.

Emory Mulling – continued

Mulling Corporation Chairman and Senior Executive Coaching Consultant

Emory has been active in a number of professional and civic organizations, including:

- Past president of his industry trade group for North America, the Association of Career Firms International.
- Earned the prestigious certification of Fellow from the International Board for Career Management.
- Past president of Lincolnshire International, an affiliation of career consulting firms of which his firm has been a member since 1990.
- Board Chair as well as Past President of the Society for Human Resource Management-Atlanta Chapter (SHRM), which awarded him its “Lifetime Achievement Award.”
- Recipient of the “Prowess Award” presented to him by The YWCA of Greater Atlanta for implementing programs and practices to empower women and for his overall efforts on behalf of women in the workplace.
- Was selected “Georgia Business Person of the Year” by the Future Business Leaders of America.

Emory served in the U.S. Army as a Military Intelligence Analyst at Battalion Headquarters. While in a combat zone and on the staff of Commander in Chief of the Pacific (CINCPAC in Hawaii), he was closely involved with counter-intelligence. He was given the highest security clearance of the U.S. Army and in that capacity analyzed national security issues related to the safety of our country.

A Georgia native, he has been married for 32 years and has two grown children.

